III SUNDAY O.T. & Sunday of the Word of God: Rediscover the value of Scripture in everyday life. This third Sunday of Ordinary Time dedicated to the Word of God and beginning the continuous reading of the Gospel of St. Matthew, which states: "when Jesus heard that John had been arrested, he withdrew to Galilee, to Capernaum, where he performs most of his signs, wonders and mission". Matthew seems to want to underline the link between Jesus' preaching and John's arrest. With the Baptist in prison, the voice of justice was no longer heard and the desert was deserted again, it was again a place without life and without words. Jesus did not resign himself to the silence imposed by Herod; he did not want the people, those same ones, he had seen repentant and full of hope lining up in the Jordan to receive baptism, to be at the mercy of a ritualistic and external religion or to fall under the yoke of the violence that arose from the desert of life and the silence of true words. Then, Jesus took the initiative and began his mission by preaching, no longer in Judea as John did, but in the peripheral Galilee. Precisely in that peripheral land and far from the capital, Jesus begins his preaching (1,14); there he gathers the first disciples (1,16). It is here in Galilee that the Gospel is heard for the first time, the good news. There, where pagans and outcasts were mixed, Jesus begins to say: "The time has come" and the days of violence, hatred, abandonment, enmity end and the time of justice and peace begins. "The kingdom of God is near" announced Jesus: the kingdom of love, forgiveness, salvation and God's lordship has come. "Repent", Jesus asked everyone. He also repeated on the shores of Lake Tiberias, in the call to the first four apostles: Simon and Andrew, while they were busy casting their nets and continuing to walk, he proposed to other two brothers: Santiago and Juan, who were mending their nets. Jesus entrusts them with an extraordinary task: "Follow me, and I will make you fish of people". The Lord returns to the seashore of our days and our lives, while each of us, small or big, is busy fixing our nets, we overwhelmed by our daily pains and worries, we hear the same invitation as then: "Follow me, and I will make you fish for people". The Gospel notes that "immediately" the four left the nets and followed him. Encouraged by this Sunday's celebration of the Word of God, an initiative that Pope Francis entrusts to the entire Church so that "the Christian community focuses on the great value that the Word of God occupies in our daily existence". In addition, it reminds us that: "Ignorance of Scripture is ignorance of Christ", and has noted that "not knowing Holy Scripture means not having a coherent knowledge of the Christian life". The objective of this Sunday is to rediscover who we are and what responsibility we have in the Church and in the world today. Stressing that, we are called to privilege the Word of God, so that it does not remain as a book in our hands, but rather turn into a continuous call to prayer, reading, meditation and biblical study to nurture our spiritual life. This Sunday of the Word of God is, therefore, an initiative to "rekindle the responsibility that each believer has in the knowledge of Holy Scripture and in keeping it alive through a work of communication, witness and permanent understanding", giving meaning to the life of the Church and allowing us to live our vocation as the apostles responded generously to Jesus.

Del Escritorio del Párroco

III DOMINGO T.O. & Domingo de la Palabra de Dios: Redescubrir el valor de la Escritura en la vida cotidiana. Este tercero domingo del Tiempo Ordinario dedicado a la Palabra de Dios con la lectura fiel y continuada del evangelio de San Mateo, el cual afirma: "cuando Jesús oyó que Juan había sido arrestado, se retiró a Galilea, a Cafarnaúm, en donde realiza la mayoría de sus signos, prodigios y misión". Mateo parece querer subrayar el vínculo entre la predicación de Jesús y el arresto de Juan. Con el Bautista en la cárcel, ya no se oía la voz de la justicia y el desierto volvía a estar desierto, volvía a ser un lugar sin vida y sin palabras. Jesús no se resignó al silencio impuesto por Herodes; no quería que los hombres, aquellos mismos hombres que él había visto arrepentidos y llenos de esperanza haciendo fila en el Jordán para recibir el bautismo, quedaran a merced de una religión ritualista y exterior o cayeran bajo el yugo de la violencia que nacía en el desierto de vida y en el desierto de palabras verdaderas. Entonces, Jesús tomó la iniciativa y empezó su misión predicando, ya no en Judea como hacía Juan, sino en la periférica Galilea. Precisamente en aquella tierra periférica y alejada de la capital, Jesús empieza su predicación (1,14); allí reúne a los primeros discípulos (1,16). Es aquí en Galilea que se oye por primera vez el Evangelio, la buena noticia. Allí, donde se mezclaban paganos y marginados, Jesús empieza a decir: "El tiempo se ha cumplido" y terminan los días de violencia, de odio, de abandono, de enemistad y empieza el tiempo de la justicia y de la paz. "El reino de Dios está cerca", anuncia Jesús: el reino del amor, del perdón, de la salvación y del dominio de Dios. "Conviértanse", pedía Jesús a todo el mundo. También se lo dijo a orillas del lago de Tiberíades en el llamado a los primeros cuatro apóstoles: Simón y Andrés, mientras estaban ocupados echando las redes y a los otros dos hermanos un poco más adelantes: Santiago y Juan, que estaban arreglando las redes de pesca. A ellos Jesús les confía una tarea extraordinaria: "Vengan conmigo, y los haré pescadores de hombres". El Señor vuelve a la orilla del mar de nuestros días y de nuestra vida, mientras cada uno de nosotros, pequeño o grande, estamos ocupado arreglando nuestras redes, abrumado por los dolores y por las preocupaciones de siempre, oyendo una voz que nos repite aquella invitación: "Vengan conmigo, y los haré pescadores de hombres". El Evangelio indica que "al instante", los cuatro dejaron las redes y le siguieron. Animados por la celebración de este domingo sobre la Palabra de Dios, una iniciativa que el Papa Francisco confía a toda la Iglesia para que "la comunidad cristiana se centre en el gran valor que la Palabra de Dios ocupa en nuestra existencia cotidiana". Además, nos recuerda que: "La ignorancia de la Escritura es ignorancia de Cristo", y ha matizado "No conocer la Sagrada Escritura significa no tener un conocimiento coherente de la vida cristiana". Objetivo de este domingo es redescubrir quiénes somos y qué responsabilidad tenemos en la Iglesia y en el mundo de hoy, indicando la atención que estamos llamados a conceder a la Palabra de Dios, para que no quede como un libro en nuestras manos, sino que se convierta más bien en una continua llamada a la *oración, la lectura, la meditación y el estudio para alimentar nuestra vida spiritual. Este Domingo de la Palabra de Dios es, por tanto, una iniciativa para "reavivar la responsabilidad que cada creyente tiene en el conocimiento de la Sagrada Escritura y en mantenerla viva mediante un trabajo de transmisión y comprensión permanente, capaz de dar sentido a la vida de la Iglesia y en el vivir nuestra vocación como respondieron prontamente los apóstoles.

BENDICION DE VELAS

Domingo 2 de febrero durante todas las Misas habrá bendición de las Velas.

III DOMENICA T.O. e Domenica della Parola di Dio: riscopri il valore della Scrittura nella vita di tutti i giorni. Questa terza domenica del tempo ordinario dedicata alla Parola di Dio con la lettura fedele e continua del Vangelo di San Matteo, in cui si afferma: “quando Gesù venne a sapere che Giovanni era stato arrestato, si ritirò in Galilea, a Cafarnao, dove si realizza la maggior parte dei suoi segni, miracoli e missione”. Matteo sembra voler sottolineare il legame tra la predicazione di Gesù e l'arresto di Giovanni. Con il Battista in prigione, la voce della giustizia non veniva più ascoltata e il deserto era di nuovo deserto, era di nuovo un luogo senza vita e senza parole. Gesù non si rassegnò al silenzio imposto da Erode; non voleva che gli uomini, quegli stessi uomini che aveva visto pentirsi e pieni di speranza in fila nel Giordano per ricevere il battesimo, fossero in balia di una religione rituale ed esterna o cadessero sotto il giogo della violenza che era nata nel deserto della vita e nel deserto di parole vere. Quindi Gesù prese l'iniziativa e iniziò la sua missione predicando, non in Giudea come fece Juan, ma nella Galilea periferica. Proprio in quella terra periferica e lontano dalla capitale, Gesù inizia la sua predicazione (1,14); lì raduna i primi discepoli (1,16). È qui in Galilea che il Vangelo viene ascoltato per la prima volta, la buona notizia. Lì, dove si mescolavano pagani ed emarginati, Gesù inizia a dire: "Il tempo è compiuto" e terminano i giorni di violenza, odio, abbandono, inimicizia e inizia il tempo della giustizia e della pace. "Il regno di Dio è vicino", annuncia Gesù: il regno dell'amore, del perdono, della salvezza e della signoria di Dio. "Convertitevi", predicava a tutti Gesù. Lo disse anche sulle rive del lago di Tiberiade nella chiamata ai primi quattro apostoli: Simone e Andrea, mentre erano impegnati a gettare le reti e continuando a camminare lo propose ad altri due fratelli: Santiago e Juan, che stavano riparando le reti per la pesca. Gesù affida loro un compito straordinario: "Vieni con me, e vi farò pescatori di uomini". Il Signore torna lungo il mare dei nostri giorni e delle nostre vite, mentre ognuno di noi, piccolo o grande, è impegnato a riparare le proprie reti, sopraffatto dai dolori e dalle fatiche di sempre, ascolta la voce che ripete l’invito di allora: "Venite con me, e vi farò pescatori di uomini". Il Vangelo indica che "subito" i quattro lasciarono le reti e lo seguirono. Incoraggiati dalla celebrazione, questa domenica, della Parola di Dio, un'iniziativa che Papa Francesco affida a tutta la Chiesa in modo che "la comunità cristiana si concentri sul grande valore che la Parola di Dio occupa nella nostra esistenza quotidiana". Inoltre, ci ricorda che: "l'ignoranza della Scrittura è ignoranza di Cristo" e ha sottolineato "non conoscere la Sacra Scrittura significa non avere una conoscenza coerente della vita cristiana". L'obiettivo di questa domenica è riscoprire chi siamo e quali responsabilità abbiamo nella Chiesa e nel mondo di oggi, indicando l'attenzione che siamo chiamati a dare alla Parola di Dio, in modo che non rimanga come un libro nelle nostre mani, ma piuttosto trasformi la nostra vita in una continua chiamata alla preghiera, alla lettura, alla meditazione e allo studio biblico per alimentare la nostra vita spirituale. Questa domenica della Parola di Dio è, quindi, un'iniziativa per "ravvivare la responsabilità che ogni credente ha nella conoscenza della Sacra Scrittura e nel mantenerla viva attraverso un'opera di trasmissione e comprensione permanente, capace di dare senso alla vita della Chiesa” e così vivere la nostra vocazione con l’impeto generoso che gli apostoli hanno risposto a Gesù.
