XXX SUNDAY O.T. The theme on prayer that we reflected last Sunday with the parable of the dishonest judge and the persistent widow who called for justice, continues this week with another parable with two protagonists who illuminate us on the true spirit that must accompany, motivate and encourage our prayer life as Jesus emphasizes. It is the story of a pharisee and a publican who go to the temple to pray. The pharisee enters the temple and prays feeling confident. It also happened to us many times to feel like him, happy with the life we lead. We know that the power of prayer helps us to understand that we cannot always live by pleasing ourselves. The pharisee feels fair and he is not ashamed about showing off his rights and his merits even before God. This is the arrogant attitude resulting from pride that makes us think many times that evil is far from us and that it does not affect us in the first person. When we think that evil is outside of us and that it surely comes from others, which have faults and guilts; instead of reflecting on our limitations. "Oh God! I thank you because I am not like the others," said the pharisee. He thought that he was different from the others, he believed himself better: he fasted twice a week and paid the tithe of all his earnings, that is, he fulfilled the religious precepts. But fasting and alms did not serve him either to purify his heart or his approach to the poor; rather, they were actions only to distinguish himself from other bad and adulterer people. The religion of that pharisee separates him from others and, therefore, distances him from God. In the Temple, he believed that he is before God, but in reality, he is alone in front of himself as if it was an idol that he worships and incenses, exalting himself. Who exalts himself and distinguishes himself from others, in reality he is left alone. The publican, on the other hand, kept "a distance," says the Gospel. The publican is one like everyone else, he is at the bottom of the Temple, he hardly distinguishes himself from the people outside, in the street, amid the confusion of the world. He is a sinner. The publicans were tax collectors, who often stole money from the poor and had little honest business. He is not a righteous person, he is not a good person, he is not a poor person: he is a sinner and far from God. But before God that man knows how to say who he is, and he does it with prayer. The publican prays saying, "Oh God! Have compassion on me, that I am a sinner". In prayer we also discover that we are poor and sinners. May this also be our daily prayer that helps us fight and defeat the evil that is dwelled in our hearts. Let this be our prayer that asks for mercy. Pray and give thanks to the Lord, because in the humility of asking, we discover the truth of our life and leave the Temple justified not by our pride, but by the grace and love of God.

WORLD MISSION SUNDAY

Thank you for your generous response to the collection for the Society for the Propagation of the Faith last weekend on World Mission Sunday! Our parish raised $ 2,439.00 in support of communities of faith in some of the most economically disadvantaged regions of our world. Your gifts and prayers contribute to the ongoing effort of the Universal Church in service and authentic global solidarity. As Pope Francis has said, "Charity impels us to go forth to the ends of the earth. A Church that presses forward to the farthest frontiers requires a constant and ongoing missionary conversion."

WE REMEMBER OUR FAITHFUL DEPARTED

The days of All Saints and the Dead are approaching. We invite you to remember them and to join in prayer in their memory. We will celebrate Mass for them November 1 & 2 at 5:30 PM in the Church. At the entrance of the Church you will find the envelopes to remember your dead. Take an ENVELOPE and write down the names of your beloved ones and make an offering in their memory and we will pray for them, keeping their envelopes in the altar throughout the month of November. XXX DOMINGO T.O. El tema de la oración que reflexionábamos el domingo pasado con la parábola del juez deshonesto y de la persistente viuda que clamaba justicia, continua esta semana con otra parábola con dos protagonistas que nos iluminan en el verdadero espíritu que debe acompañar, motivar y animar nuestra oración como subraya Jesús. Es la historia de un fariseo y de un publicano que se van al templo para orar. El fariseo entra en el templo y ora sintiéndose seguro de sí mismo. Nos habrá pasado también a nosotros muchas veces de sentirnos como él, contentos de la vida que llevamos. Sabemos pero que el poder de la oración nos ayuda a comprender que no podemos vivir siempre complaciéndonos a nosotros mismos. El fariseo se siente justo y no tiene reparo alguno en presumir de sus derechos y de sus méritos incluso ante Dios. Esta es la actitud arrogante fruto del orgullo que nos hace pensar muchas veces que el mal está lejos de nosotros y que no nos afecta en primera persona. Cuando pensamos que el mal está fuera de nosotros y que seguramente viene de los demás, los cuales tienen defectos y culpas; en lugar de reflexionar sobre las nuestras limitaciones. "¡Oh Dios! Te doy gracias porque no soy como los demás", decía el fariseo. Pensaba que era distinto de los demás, se creía mejor: ayunaba dos veces a la semana y pagaba el diezmo de todas sus ganancias, es decir, cumplía los preceptos religiosos. Pero el ayuno y la limosna no le servían ni para purificar el corazón ni para acercarse a los pobres; más bien eran acciones solo para distinguirse de los demás injustos y adúlteros. La religión de aquel fariseo lo separa de los demás y, por tanto, lo aleja de Dios. En el Templo, creía que está frente a Dios, pero en realidad está solo frente a sí mismo como si fuera un ídolo al que adora e inciensa, exaltándose a sí mismo. Quien se exalta y se distingue de los demás, en el fondo se queda solo. El publicano, en cambio, se mantenía "a distancia", dice el Evangelio. El publicano es uno como todos los demás, está al fondo del Templo, casi no se distingue de la gente que está fuera, en la calle, en medio de la confusión del mundo. Es un pecador. Los publicanos eran recaudadores de impuestos, que muchas veces robaban el dinero de los pobres y tenían negocios poco honestos. No es alguien justo, no es alguien bueno, no es alguien pobre: es un pecador y está lejos de Dios. Pero ante Dios aquel hombre sabe decir quién es, y lo hace con la oración. El publicano reza diciendo: "¡Oh Dios! Ten compasión de mí, que soy pecador". En la oración descubrimos también nosotros que somos pobres y pecadores. Que sea esta también nuestra oración de cada día que nos ayuda a luchar y a derrotar el mal que nace en nuestro corazón. Que sea esta nuestra oración que pide piedad. Oremos y demos gracias al Señor porque en la humildad de pedir descubrimos la verdad de nuestra vida y salimos del Templo justificados no por nuestro orgullo, sino por la gracia y el amor de Dios.

Fr. Feccia's Reflection

Trentesima Domenica del Y.O. — "Due uomini salirono al tempio a pregare". `E tipico della caricatura cogliere un elemento significativo del modello prescelto e metterlo in evidenza esagerando i tratti. Con un processo analogo Gesù descrive i due estremi della società religiosa del suo tempo presentando due opposti atteggiamenti spirituali. Questo quadretto riguarda da vicino tutti noi: In quale personaggio possiamo riconoscerci? Nel fariseo o nel pubblicano? Incontriamo in primo luogo il fariseo con la sua magnifica «eucarestia», «o DIO ti ringrazio…» Non chiede nulla per sè, e sicuramente non è un ipocrita: quello che dice corrisponde a una pratica che egli osserva scrupolosamente. Ma ne è fin troppo consapevole: rivolge una grande attenzione a se stesso: ascolta la sua preghiera . E sopratutto, giudica gli altri.. Per quanto riguarda Dio, se ne interessa solamente, unicamente nella misura in cui Dio non dimenticherà, di riconoscere i suoi meriti eccezionali. Di fronte a questo uomo pio tanto sicuro sè, dice Bergerac. Il cristiano, invece, sa che il giusto è sempre un uomo giustificato, salvato da Dio, al dl fuori di qualsiasi merito. Siamo sufficientemente convinti di questo, quando preghiamo? Il miglior indice rivelatore di ciò che siamo davanti a Dio è ancora la nostra preghiera.

Il fariseo e il publlcano.— Il pubblicano è in uno stato di confusione completa, come potrà ottenere il perdono senza cambiare vita e senza rimborsare le persone che ha defraudato. Agli occhi dei «benpensanti», il suo caso è senza soluzione. Ma il cuore di Dio ha sempre una soluzione per i casi disperati. Egli ama il peccatore e lo giustifica, perché si è posto in un atteggiamento di umiltà. Come potrebbe Dio entrare in un rapporto con un uomo così autosufficiente e sprezzante degli altri? La sua preghiera si riduce a un monologo davanti a Dio e a un Dio muto.
